KINGSANDBERG WEDDING—

Amboy News: At the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Sandberg, of Lee Center, Ill., occurred the wedding of their daughter, Eda Alma, to Mr. George King, of Central City, Neb., Aug. 23, 1919.

At high noon accompanied by the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin played by Miss Olson, of Chicago, the wedding party descended the stairs and the bride and groom supported by Miss Nona Fuller as bridesmaid and Mr. Lee King, brother of the groom as best man, took their places under the arch. Mr. Lee King sang, "I Love You Truly." Rev. Joseph Burrows performed the ceremony which united their lives.

Immediately following, a three course luncheon was served by seven of the bride's friends.

The bride's gown was white Georgette crepe trimmed with soutache braid and she carried a bouquet of rose buds and smilax. The bridesmaid's dress was yellow Georgette crepe and crepe de Chine. The traveling suit was of silvertone.

The decorations were in yellow and white, with white carnations and ferns. The gifts were many, and beautiful and useful.

The out-of-town guests were: Frank King and family, Central City, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Dogwiler, of Dixon; Mr. Olson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Vivian Vico and daughter, of Chicago; Mr. Eugene Welch, of Galesburg; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. King, Lincoln, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Berkeley, Amboy, and Mr. Swanson and family, of Rock Falls.

The bride and groom will take a short trip after which they will be at home to their friends at Central City, Neb.

GIVEN FAREWELL PICNIC—

A farewell to Mrs. William Ross was the occasion of the boatride and picnic given by the members of the Young Women's Bible class of the Methodist church Thursday afternoon. Twenty-five gathered at the dock at 2:30 for the ride to Lowell Park and five others gathered there later for the picnic supper, which was an outdoor feast, in deed. Escalloped potatoes, winners corn, and coffee were prepared over a bonfire in the park and other good things were added from laden picnic baskets. Supper was served at 6 o'clock, and piping hot, and the fall atmosphere of the day made the hot viands especially enjoyable. Appetites were keen after the afternoon in the open, especially with the bathers, who had been in the water a large part of the afternoon, while the others chatted and otherwise employed the time. Mrs. Ross was presented with a silver spoon, a remembrance from the class and a token of appreciation of the faithful endeavor. Mrs. Ross had put forth in the work of the class. The presentation was made by Mrs. Arthur Sheffield in a few fitting words and Mrs. Ross, responding, expressed her appreciation of the gift and of the happy affair given in her honor. Mrs. Ross is leaving soon to make her home in California.

AMUSEMENTS

MY SUNSHINE LADY.

Lovers of musical comedy have another big treat in store next Tuesday night when "My Sunshine Lady" will be presented. The fact that the managers LeComte & Flesher were responsible for such successes as "A Prince of Tonight" and a "Modern Eve" are a guarantee that "My Sunshine Lady" will be of the same excellent standard.

Of fairy-like construction, but modern in its happily drawn mixture of personalities, artfully novel in its pretty preservation of the romantic fairy theme, with a fine organization of musical comedy interpreters and a chorus that can both sing and dance and is said to justify—as much as earthly maidens might—their selection for representing "sun-goddesses," this diverting entertainment has struck loudly the keynote of popular favor and will doubtless afford local patrons of the play one of the most enjoyable evening's they have had in a long while.

Musical lovers will be interested in the following—selected from the list of popular tunes abounding in the score: "My Sunshine Lady," "In 1929," "The Songs I Sang When I Was Twenty-One," "When the Whistle Blew For Home Sweet Home," "I Miss You, Honey, Deed I Do," "Love Needs Opposition," "Mystic, Magic Man," "Mere Man," "Dixieland Is Calling You," "Cupid's Sweets," "What's the Use of Lovin'," "A Night at the Riviera" and "Anything to Make a Picture Nowadays."

IN OLD KENTUCKY.

Of the hundreds of thousands who have seen this picturesque and charming American play, "In Old Kentucky," is there one who can forget the wild rollicking fun of the rough pickaninnies, their spirit, their abandon and their exquisite naturalness and unconscious by-play; is there one whose heart does not beat faster at the thought of that wild race; of Madge, the brave and pretty girl heroine who saves her lover by riding the beautiful black Kentucky thoroughbred, "Queen Bess" to victory amid all the turmoil, danger and excitement of a real race? Can anyone forget the daring swing of the heroine across the mighty mountain chasm; the throwing of the bomb with fuse ignited into the abyss, where it explodes with tremendous force; the heroic rescue of "Queen Bess" from the burning stable and the countless other startling effects? And then there is the Colonel, the dear old mint-julep, horse-race-loving Colonel, whose geniality pervades the play, but who would sooner suffer in the hereafter than miss a thoroughbred horse race, or a well-made mint-julep; Aunt Lettie, a wholesome type of the good women this famous state produces with such prodigality; Uncle Neb, the old darkey servant of the ante-bellum days, whose loyalty to his master means the shedding of this life's blood if necessary; Frank, the manly straight-forward hero, with the faults of reckless youth and the virtues of a race of sturdy pioneers who hewed their path through the wilder-

GIVES DETAILS OF ACCIDENT IN MENDOTA MONDAY

The Mendota Sun-Bulletin gives the following account of the accident which befell H. M. Talty, of Harmon, and two Dixon friends while they were en route home from LaSalle in Mr. Talty's Ford car Monday night, brief mention of which was made in The Telegraph this week:

On the return trip from LaSalle Monday evening, about 11 o'clock, a party of three men from Harmon struck the railing of the bridge near the Ferguson farm and not only wrecked their car to such an extent that it will be necessary to replace the damages with a new Sedan body but also narrowly escaped with their lives. Just how they happened to strike the railing could not be explained, but the evidence showed by the wreckage indicated that they were traveling at a high rate of speed, as the front axle was bent into a "V" shape by the impact with the iron post, and the marks on the iron rail show that the momentum of the car had carried it onto the rail before it turned over into the ditch.

On Tuesday morning mechanics from the Mendota Auto Co., went to the scene of the wreck and found it was necessary to load the damaged car onto a truck in order to bring it to the garage. The most peculiar part of the accident is that the radiator and front lights were unharmed by the crash.

Mr. H. M. Talty, the owner of the car, and his friends proceeded to their destination by train, congratulating themselves on their lucky escape.

Subscriptions to the Telegraph must be paid in advance.

SORY EDUCATION.Iowa has a couple of new dovetailing laws relating to juvenile wage-earners.
As in Illinois there are now and there have been compulsory education provisions in the Illinois law, pertaining to children up to 16 years of age. In each state there is provision for the granting of permits to juveniles who must work.One of the new Iowa laws provides that all minors between the ages of 14 and 16 who are working for their living must attend school eight hours a week during all the weeks of the school year. The other new law provides for reduction of the lawful child-labor week from 48 hours to 40, thus providing time for the new requirement as to schooling.Employers are to arrange the schedule of working hours of these minors with reference to such schooling. It appears to be up to the Iowa school authorities to make provisions for the teaching of these part-time pupils.It may be assumed that all children under 14 years of age who have any parental control, and who are not incorrigible or physically unfit, attend school regularly. The Iowa idea is that schooling should not be stopped for any of the state's minors at the age of 14, that the 15th and 16th years of a minor's life be years in which he can make his greatest advancement.The laws represent one more congress in the care and education of child-labor by parenting of child-labor by parenting. In practice it will probably free minor's working hours during school to about 36 a week, four a day. It will make the labor of 14 to 16 less sought and will doubtless cut down the of his weekly pay envelope. To small extent it will decrease the supply. But the main thing is it gives the boys and girls a better chance to improve their minds in preparation for better and more efficient citizenship.

TIME TO TALK TURKEY.

Carranza objected to the raid in pursuit of Villa. He let it be known that the intervention in the battle at Juarez stepped upon his dignity for consistency's sake. He is bound to give some sign that the chase of the bandits who held the two American army aviators for ransom is displeasing to the Mexican nation.When Carranza shall have spoken it should be incumbent upon the government at Washington to reply with its plainest and its hardest words. It should tell the Mexican president that when it said it might have to change its policy it meant it; it should tell him that the patience of the United States is drained away and that henceforth the acts of outlawry against American citizens would be accepted as challenges; it should tell him that while America will be reluctant to adopt a program of intervention she will most surely intervene if Carranza does not immediately drop the business of snarling and barking about the overbear-ance of America and proceed to the business of establishing peace and order along the international border.Fine words are lost on the present Mexican government. Appeals and protests and veiled threats have been just so much breath thrown away.
There is a language which the Mexicans understand and respect. It is the language which just men use when angered.The St. Louis Globe-Democrat says: "A good natured man seldom has his own way." But then, having his own way is not a necessity to the good natured man.Wanting but little here below has

CHICAGO MEETING
OF SOCIALISTSHungarian Forces Plotting
to Restore Monarchical Government?

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 30.—Strike developed in the ranks of the Socialist party, which presaged a split, before Adolph Gerner, national secretary, was able to call the opening meeting of the national convention to order here today. Delegates of the so-called left wing of the party were forcibly put out of the hall by policemen because Secretary Gerner said they were trying to pack the convention by seating delegates who had no credentials.

Fist Fight Starts.

A fist fight between two delegates threatened for a time to become a free for all but the police were able to stop it before more irate left wing delegates could take part.Immediately after their expulsion from the convention hall left wing supporters, led by John Reed of New York, held a meeting to decide on a course of action. Reporters were not allowed in this meeting or in the main convention."We are really socialists and we don't want to talk to any reporter or members of the capitalist press," Reed declared before he closed the doors of the left wing caucus.

Radicalism Cause?

The left wing men want more enthusiasm in the party, practically a proletariat dictatorship, and some even go so far as to suggest an abolition of political action. It was explained that the breach in the party has been widening for some time and the trouble today was the result of this schism.
Some said the left wing side wanted to adopt a program modeled after that of the Russian socialists.The convention is scheduled to last a week. Secretary Gerner said a national platform would be adopted but that probably no presidential candidates would be named. Approximately 250 delegates were present at the opening session and it was claimed they represented a majority of states.

CHURCH LEAGUE HONORFailed to Show Up for Final and Deciding Contest.By failing to show up at Brown Field last evening for the final game of the church playground baseball league, which has been conducted this summer under the direction of the Y. M. C. A., the Catholic team, according to all available records, forfeited the championship of the league to the Episcopals, whom they were to have met in the last and deciding contest of the series.According to the best "dope" obtainable—the change of office secretaries at the Y. M. C. A. resulting in the omission of a few games from the official record—the Episcopal team were trailing the Catholics by half a game prior to last evening's scheduled meeting. The Catholics failed to make an appearance and the game was forfeited to the Episcopals, thereby giving them the lead in the league race by half a game.Throughout the season the race was great. Some mighty interesting and close games were played, and many of the players developed fine skill. As a result of the success which attended the games this year promoters are already at work outlining a league for next year which will take in more teams and a larger schedule.

1 o'clock. Older sisters or brothers may bring the children, but the teachers prefer that the mothers come. The number of children to enroll on the South Side is limited to 35.The children of the North Side are to register in Kindergarten hall on Monday at 9 o'clock. There is no limit to the number of children who may enroll with the North Side Kindergarten as the hall is amply roomy.Miss Alta Vall is Kindergarten super-Leaders Meet Monday to Decide Important Plans for Future.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Aug. 30.—Whether the mission of the prohibition party has been accomplished with national prohibition scheduled to become effective next January 16 by constitutional amendment, whether it should continue on the issue of law enforcement or be reorganized for world prohibition, are questions for the national committee to solve Sept. 1. The leaders held varying opinions and the future of the national prohibition party is in doubt.

The national committee's meeting will be in conjunction with the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the party. Two men who were in the organization fifty years ago will be present to talk on the history of the half century. They are Colonel John Sobieski, once exiled from Poland for political reasons and who recently refused a throne which Polish imperialists wished to establish with the freeing of their native land in the world war, and H. A. Miner, of Madison, Wis.

On September 2, representatives of all prohibition organizations will hold a conference.

WILSON THANKS PAINTER UNION

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C., Aug. 30.—President Wilson today wrote to Hoboken, N. J., painters' union thanking its striking members for their action in returning to work and adopting resolutions in support of the government's efforts to relieve abnormal economic conditions. The letter follows:

"May I not express to members of local 78, my admiration of the public spirited action they have taken, an action which I am sure is in the interest of the whole country as setting an example of patriotic co-operation in relieving, not complicating, a situation which must be dealt with as much wisdom as energy."

SEN. OWENS ATTACKS LODGE ARGUMENTS ON TREATY RATIFICATION

Declares Lodge is Blinded By Partisanship and Distrust.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C., Aug. 30.—Replying in the senate today to arguments presented by Chairman Lodge, of the foreign relations committee against unreserved ratification of the peace treaty Senator Owen, democrat, Oklahoma, declared Mr. Lodge had been blinded by partisanship and by a distrust of popular institutions.

Referring to the committee chairman's parallel between the league of nations and the ill-famed holy alliance, Mr. Owen said the argument had overlooked the intrigues and autocratic selfishness, which surrounded the alliance.

"The fact that was followed the treaty of the holy alliance," he continued, "was because this treaty was between military dynasties, made by monarchial autocrats, each controlled by intrigue. The senator from Massachusetts believes that the promises of these royal scoundrels may be justly compared with the promises and aspirations of the honest, organized democracies of the world."

"Rule of the Few."

"The trouble with the senator from Massachusetts is that he really believes in the rule of the few over the many. He does not believe the people ought to have the right to initiate laws they want or veto laws they do not want. He looks upon them with less confidence than he did upon the military autocracies, for the senator favored a league in 1915, when the autocracies were in full flower."

"The galleries always applaud when a senator strikes an oratorical pose and thunders forth his stony Americanism. But the senator's Americanism did not prevent him from making an argument at Union college, in 1915, in favor of a league of nations. Am I going too far if I appeal from Philip drunk to Philip sober?"

"Wars Against Mankind."

"He is not, as he thinks, waging a war against Woodrow Wilson. He is waging a war against the desires and the hopes of all mankind. Let him beware of throwing himself and his blind partisanship across the path of the righteous judgment of mankind."

CONDITIONS ARE NEARLY NORMAL IN RAIL STRIKE

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Los Angeles, Calif., Aug. 30.—Practically all striking steam road engineers, conductors, brakemen and switchmen reported back to work this morning, following a vote last night to discontinue their strikes here.

The first train to leave Los Angeles since August 22 was a Southern Pacific Valley line passenger for San Francisco. The Santa Fe expected to start trains before nine o'clock.

ACCEPT WILSON OFFER.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Aurora, Ill., Aug. 30.—Machinists employed by the Burlington railroad shops voted last night to accept President Wilson's offer of an increase of pay of four cents an hour on a ten hour basis.

The raise amounts to five cents an hour as the rail shodmen work eight hours a day. It dates back to May 1. The raise was to have been given to the men whether they voted for it or not. Clerks were added to the pay roll department several days ago to figure the men's checks and bonuses based on the new wage scale. The new rate for mechanics is 73 cents an hour.

In voting to accept the raise the men assume that the cost of living is to come down in the next 90 days. They were encouraged to hope they said, by the recent declines in the wholesale market.

CONDITIONS NEARLY NORMAL

Los Angeles, Calif., Aug. 30.—Conditions nearer normal than for many days so far as railroad transportation was concerned, greeted Southern California residents today. With the engineers, conductors, firemen and a majority of the yardmen and brakemen pledged to return to work, after their strike in sympathy with striking employees of the Pacific electric lines, railroad officials arranged to move trains on virtually normal schedules.

Meeting Last Night

The men agreed to return at meetings held last night, the engineers, conductors and firemen agreeing first to follow any action taken by the brotherhood of railway trainmen members, which included the yardmen and brakemen, and the latter group in a stormy session later voting to resume work this morning.

A portion of those attending the meeting voted not to return to work and held a further meeting. A. F. Whitney, international vice president of the brotherhood of railway trainmen, who addressed the meeting, declared the proportion of union men failing to return would be "negligible."

The vote of the meeting also operated to call back to work members of the "big four" railway brotherhoods on strike at San Bernardino and Bakersfield, who had agreed to follow whatever action the men took.

Serious at Barstow

Fresno and San Francisco strikers returned to work yesterday. Admittedly, the situation at Barstow was serious, men there at last reports having refused to obey the orders of the international officers to work.

However, the railroad administration officials counted on moving trains through that point. Trains delayed as far as Albuquerque, N. M. were moving westward this morning and the general feeling here was that any men who remained out would be too few to affect conditions materially.

COMMISSIONERS OF FAIR PRICE IN EACH STATE

States Will Act in Conjunction with U. S. to Lower H. C. L.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, Aug. 30.—State agencies began functioning in close cooperation with the federal government today in the campaign to reduce the cost of living as a result of the conference held yesterday with President Wilson and Attorney General Palmer by the committee of six state governors representing the governors' national conference.

Approve Commissioner Plan.

Assurances were given the attorney general by the committee that every state agency which could be of service in the emergency would be placed at his disposal for any information or assistance he might desire. The committee's endorsement of Mr. Palmer's suggestion that a fair price commission be appointed in each state and fair price committees in the different localities also was announced after the conference, at which the attorney general declared that if satisfactory results in the elimination of profiteering were not obtained through these instrumentalities the department of justice "would handle these questions directly." Need of increased production and greater economy in the consumption of the necessities of life was urged by the committee as a means of reducing the high price levels.

A TERRIBLE DISAPPOINTMENT CHAPTER LX

There had been no opportunity to go again into the attic. But I had by no means forgotten my fixed determination to see what was in that trunk. So one afternoon when Mrs. Gray was out, I sent Hetty on an errand that would take her some time. Then I went up and tried every key I could find in the lock of that battered trunk, but not one would turn.

"Everett must keep it in his pocket-book on his key ring," I grumbled, as I rose stiffly from the floor. Then there came to me a story I had read where an impression of a lock was taken in gum and a key made. I had no hope that I could get the key from Everett if my supposition was right, as he always kept his keys in the pocket of the suit he was wearing, even when in dress clothes. But I could get some gum. I could try to make an impression, and if I succeeded, I could hunt up some one to make me a key.

I hurried down stairs. Hetty came in presently and I at once sent her out for some gum. She looked a trifle surprised, but said nothing. When she returned I gave her a stick and pretended to chew one myself, although gum-chewing was one habit I never had formed.

It was too late for me to make another visit to the attic. It would be dark up there. So I had to content myself until some time when I could get another opportunity. I would not dare go with Mrs. Gray in the house. She would surely be suspicious if I did.

"Get yourself ready for a short trip, just a day or two, and meet me at the station at 5 o'clock," Everett said at breakfast the next morning. "I'll run up and get my bag, and take it to the office with me."

"Oh, where are you going?" I was all excitement.

"To New York. I thought you would like to go. I shall have time to shop a little with you. And we will take in a play or two."

"That will be lovely! Shall I take an evening gown?"

"Certainly. Your sapphire chignon, and your cloak. Wear your tailored suit, and take an afternoon dress. That will be all you will require. Be sure you have all the accessories you need to keep yourself looking nice. One never knows what may turn up in New York."

The attic, my curiosity about the trunk, and what it contained, all were forgotten in my delight. Then suddenly came the thought—he is afraid to leave me alone for fear I'll invite some one here, or do something to displease him! But I would not allow even that thought to dampen my delight. I wrote mother a note before I started to pack my things.

"Everett is going to New York and is taking me with him," I told her. "We are going to take in some plays, and he is to some shopping for me, he says. He is really awfully good to me. Mother, and you mustn't worry about what Rose says. She does exaggerate you know, at times most dreadfully."

"The only trouble with Everett is that he can't consider me as grown up. He treats me like a child, instead of a married woman. Perhaps some day he will realize that I have grown, and will act as if I had. Until then I will have to make the best of it, I suppose. I am so sorry Rose worried you about it."

My letter finished, I hurried upstairs and laid out the things I wanted to take with me. Then I called up Alice Sloan and told her I was going to New York and asked her if she wished me to do anything for her. She gave me several commissions which I promised to fulfill with care.

I was so excited I couldn't keep still and when Mrs. Barr corrected me, my answer was more impulsive than polite. My lesson hour over, I rushed up to dress for the journey. I was nearly ready, my bag packed and strapped when the telephone rang. It was Everett.

"I have changed my mind about taking you. Do not accept any invitations or invite guests while I am away. Good bye." If he had heard my gasp of amazement and my sob of disappointment, he paid no attention, for immediately he said goodbye the click of the receiver told me he had hung up. I tried to get him at his office, but he was gone. He had evidently telephoned me from outside.
